The Royal Butler, My Remarkable Life in Royal Service

Time: 45min talk.

Based on Grant's best selling book The Royal Butler. We begin with a gas fitter's son who has dreams beyond the Scottish borders. His ambition to become a butler after watching "Remains of the day" did materialise. However, even though this proved be a struggle, working for the Royals was the ultimate dream goal. With numerous letters and several interviews, he never gave up on his ambitions despite many setbacks and dead ends. Thanks to an inner drive he kept going and little did he realise that this determination would one day see him working as a butler to The Prince of Wales, (now His Majesty King Charles III) and his family.

Celebrity Conversationalist Talks

Shall we dance your Majesty? - An inspirational talk by Grant Harrold The Royal Butler

Time: 45min talk.

In 1993, a documentary called ER was aired. As a young man, Grant was fascinated by this programme. One scene featured The Late Queen's Highland home, Balmoral Castle. The scene that Grant never forgot was the Ghillies Ball where the Queen danced with the members of the Royal Family. For Grant, a dream was born. The dream was to one day be invited to the Ghilles Ball and dance with Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II. Thirteen years later, Grant did indeed dance with the Late Queen. Let him take you through his incredible journey from his first letter to Her Majesty, to that special evening in Scotland.

Life of a Royal Butler - A talk given by Grant Harrold The Royal Butler

Time: 45min talk.

When Grant watched the documentary ER back in 1992, little did he realise one day he would be a butler for the Late Queen's family. He dreamed of one day meeting the Queen and as a child would visit royal homes, but never did he imagine that one day he would help run these homes and look after The Late Queen and Duke of Edinburgh and other members of the Royal Family during his time as a personal butler to Their Majesties King Charles III and Queen Camilla, and Princes William and Harry.

Tea is Served M'Lord - A personal and emotional talk given by Grant Harrold The Royal Butler

Time: 45min talk.

In 1999 a TV series hit our screens called "Country House". Grant was fascinated by this series which followed the lives of Lord and Lady Tavistock, (known to their personal staff as Lord and Lady T), their household and estate at Woburn Abbey.

After watching the first episode, Grant decided he would like to be the butler of this grand home and work for one of Britain's best known aristocratic families. Here Grant also discovered that the great British pastime of afternoon tea was introduced by Duchess Maria Bedford. Grant will teach you the history, traditions and the correct way to lay up the perfect tea table and how to serve this very special meal. Tea time was created in one of the grandest homes in the land and Grant managed it as the Butler.

An Interview with King Charles III - An uplifting talk given by Grant Harrold The Royal Butler

Time: 45min talk.

On the 1st September 1997, one day after the death of Diana Princess of Wales, Grant entered into private service taking up a position at Ben Alder Lodge in Scotland. On this day Grant made a decision that would steer his career directly to the Royal Family and arrive at Clarence House to meet His Majesty King Charles III, who was then The Prince of Wales. During his time in Royal service, Grant discovered Royal etiquette. Do you know how to shake hands like a Royal or sit elegantly like a Royal Duchess? Let Grant guide you through the correct way to carry out these tasks with Royal grace and decorum, and put your friends to shame with your sitting etiquette.

The Life of a Royal Butler - A fun and humours talk given by Grant

Harrold The Royal Butler

Time: 45min talk.

Grant's time with the Royal Family saw him travel with the Royal Family across the United Kingdom to some of the most historic family homes that the Royals frequent. This talk looks at his time in these special places from the beauty of Balmoral Castle and Estate to the historic Sandringham House. He also discovered the beauty of The Late Queen Mother's Highland getaway, "Castle of May" where Grant found out there was more than ghosts to worry about! Grant also on occasions managed Clarence House, the London home of the then Prince of Wales and ran the Butler's pantry at Sandringham House which was no easy task. In this talk, Grant also looks at overseas travels that the Royals have embarked on over the decades.
